TURNING OUT THE BEST WORK

The bindery of the Bonanza is turning out the best work in the city, and it is giving such great satisfaction that anyone who has his work done there once, never goes anywhere else. The plant is the finest and most complete, not only in the State, but this side of San Francisco. We can turn out all kinds of work that is demanded in the offices of lawyers, brokers, promoters, mining companies, or for any other kind of business, and we guarantee satisfaction in every respect. One trial will be sufficient to establish the truth of this statement. It pays to go where only the best kind of work is done, and it pays to patronize home industry.

BACK TO THE MOTHER LODGE.

J. J. and T. E. McSorley, the well known mining promoters and mine operators, well known all along the mother lode, who have recently been operating with success in the southern mines of Nevada, arrived in Sutter Creek on Friday, having come over from Mokelumne Hill, and returned the same evening. They were accompanied by Wm. Deane, a mining man from Leadville. J. J. McSorley, while operating in Nevada, earned for himself the sobriquet of "Booster" McSorley because he never boosted or took hold of a proposition without making a success of it. This is due to the fact that he is a thorough, practical miner, knowing every line of the business from mucker to manager, so it is his practical knowledge that furnishes the leverage for success rather than the proverbial B. S. as some may suppose. The boys were looking over the territory here with a view to future operations. That they have come back to the old stamping grounds shows that the alluring prospects of the Sagebrush State have not shaken their confidence in the merits of the old mother lode.—Amador Record.

WILLE UNDER ARREST.

Picked Up in Denver on a Chicago Deal.

DENVER, Oct. 26.—John Wille, the heavyweight pugilist from Chicago, who has been in the city for some time, was taken into custody last night by the city police department at the instance of the Chicago police department. The big fellow is wanted in Chicago, and will be taken there at once.

The charge against Wille, in legal parlance, is larceny as bailee, it being alleged that he skipped out with $2000 that was left in his hands as trustee.

Wille was what, in pugilistic circles, is known as a trial horse. He never gained any great importance in the ring, but was good enough to defeat many with great ambitions and little ability.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 26.—Perhaps

John Wille is better known in Salt Lake than any place else in the country, unless it is Ogden. At Ogden Louis Saville knows him better than any one else. Wille is considerable of a fighter and wrestler, notwithstanding the dispatches from Denver which says that he was only a trial horse. In the opinion of many Wille is the best man in the business today barring Jack Johnson. While it is true that he has been defeated many times, this is attributed to the alleged fact that Wille would rather fake than fight on the square any day in the week. Wille's biggest trick around this part of the country was the time it was alleged he and "Big" Ed McCoy trimmed Louis Saville of Ogden out of $3,000 in a fake wrestling match. Wille operated with Billy Gibson while in this part of the country.

GANS FRIGHTENED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Gans presents a curious contradiction in the matter of physical courage. In the ring he will take on men much larger than himself, and in his long career has shown but few evidences of timidity. Outside the ring he is an entirely different character. He is in mortal dread of earthquakes. He was in this city when the big one came, and he was nearly killed by falling bricks. Since then when the night is sultry he refuses to go to bed, preferring to sit up and wait for something to happen.

Kid North, his greatest friend here, laughs at Gans' fears of being out after dark. Gans is always expecting a hold-up man to step out from the shadows and relieve him of his valuables. To avoid being taken by surprise he always walks on the outer edge of the sidewalk. He does not seem to think that with one blow he could knock down the most burly footpad. It is safe to say that any guests he may have in his big new automobile will be perfectly safe, as he will not run it at a dangerous rate of speed.

VICTORIA NOT VERY POPULAR

MADRID, Oct. 26.—Queen Victoria is fast losing, or, rather, ridding herself of the great popularity which was hers.

Only recently her husband's people idolized the queen; courtiers and nobles highly admired her. Now she is fast becoming one of the least loved of sovereigns.

The queen has plainly shown the numerous members of the royal family that their society is not congenial to her. She has done away with the dinner at which the king met all his relatives each day. From time immemorial all of the royal family and their suites have resided in the palace; now the queen's exclusive ways and imperious manner have made the palace atmosphere so frigid for them they are leaving it for good and all.

Through her husband's kin Queen Victoria is antagonizing the proud Spanish nobles whom the queen mother conciliated only after years of patient, diplomatic effort. The nobles bitterly resent the queen's refusal to attend bull fights, except when court etiquette compels her presence. Even then she ostentatiously screens her face with her fan, making it plain that the sport so dear to every Spaniard is disgusting to her.

All kinds of stories are afloat even among the people about the queen's fiery temper and the condition of subjection to which she has reduced King Alfonso. All Spanish diplomats who have served in England say her majesty inherits her hot temper; that her mother, Princess Henry of Battenberg, who ruled the English court in Queen Victoria's time and opposed her husband until he became the merest lay figure, is notorious for her unamiability, to put it mildly.

King Alfonso's supporters will applaud everything the queen does and says. Not only is he intensely loyal and loving to his wife; not only does his volatile nature submit to her resolute one, but he, too, detests to be bored by senseless etiquette and regal restraints. It is said here that it will be well here for King Edward to impress some sound advice on his headstrong niece when she visits England. Else the unstable Spanish throne may be so shaken that its occupants will be startled from their complacent security.

RACED AFTER SWEETHEART.

Chased 10,000 Miles, So He Deserved to Win.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Racing across the continent from San Francisco, Herbert A. Seller intercepted his bride-to-be, Miss Cassie Brill of Seattle, just as she was preparing to sail with her aunt, and thought she will go abroad just the same, it will be as Mrs. Seller, their wedding having taken place here yesterday at the hotel Majestic.

Miss Brill, to whom Mr. Seller has been engaged to marry for some time, informed him recently that she intended to go abroad for a year, meantime their marriage having been postponed on account of a death in Miss Brill's family.

Mr. Seller, who is a prominent importer of San Francisco, was displeased on learning of his fiancée's contemplated European trip and urged her to marry him at once. She declined, then with her aunt, Mrs. Furham of Seattle, she came to New York a week ago.

Meantime Mr. Seller convinced that delays are dangerous, had also taken a trail for New York and reached there three days after his bride-to-be. This time he was successful in pressing his suit and in the presence of a few friends from New York and the west they were married in the parlor of the Majestic. Mr. and Mrs. Seller, after the ceremony, went to the Waldorf-Astoria, where they will remain until they sail.

Mr. Seller said last night at the Waldorf-Astoria that he had made several trips from San Francisco to Seattle in a vain attempt to convince Miss Brill that "now" was the time to get married. "All together," he added, "I chased her nearly 10,000 miles and I think I deserved to win."

IS AFTER LONGBOAT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Alfred Shrub, the English professional runner, is accused of attempting to debauch American amateurs. Shrub landed here several months ago full of challenges to Longboat, the famous Indian. Shrub knows all the tricks of the game. He made a good living as an "amateur" in England until he was finally thrown out of the Amateur Athletic association for professionalism.

Now Shrub is after Longboat again. If he succeeds in inducing Longboat to turn "pro" it won't be any loss to American athletics, for as a Canadian Longboat's points in the Olympic games, which will be held in England next spring, will be counted in with those won by the British team. If he remains an amateur Longboat is a sure point winner. Shrub had held out many inducements to Longboat to turn professional, but so far Longboat is still classed with the amateurs.

OUT OF GAME.

Teddy, Jr., Has Bum Knee as Result of Injury.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 26.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., will be unable to play football for at least two weeks. He has water on the knee as the result of an injury. It has just developed, received from the game when he played right end on the second team. He is under the care of a physician.

This is not the first time that young Roosevelt has been injured while playing football at Harvard. On October 6, 1906, while doing stunts on Soldiers' field, he cut himself under the eye as he was tackling a player.

A month later, while he was at left end on the Harvard freshman team against Yale, he sustained a broken nose and was compelled to undergo an operation at the hands of a Boston specialist. However, this operation cured an injury in his nose which was received while he was boxing with Mike Donovan at the White House.

Only last year he gave up pole vaulting after a mishap. While he was clearing a bar at 9 feet 8 inches his pole snapped and he plunged to the sawdust, and sawdust filled his eyes, ears and nose. Then he confided to a friend that the sport was a little too strenuous.

Young Roosevelt played football for years at Groton and he has been trying to make the varsity team, but has proved unsuccessful.

TENNIS CHALLENGE CUP.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—In accordance with his offer, made during the championship meeting the past summer, the Prince of Wales has presented a silver challenge cup to the All-England Lawn Tennis club, of which he has consented to become president. The inscription runs as follows:

"Presented by George, Prince of Wales to the All-England Lawn Tennis club, to be held for the year by the winner of the All-Comers' singles (championship of the world)."

The wording is curious. Hitherto the all-comers and the championship have been regarded as distinct titles, although it has happened from time to time that both have been won by one and the same person. This has occurred, of course, when the holder of the title in the previous year has vacated the post of honor. It would be a natural inference, from the wording on the cup, that the champion will in future have to play through.
